

For Immediate Release

Gettysburg National Battlefield/Cemetery Monument

“Been There Markers & Monuments” Announces Availability of Gettysburg National Battlefield/Cemetery Monument

(Commemorating the Battle, National Cemetery and Gettysburg Address)

Cumberland, MD— Gettysburg National Battlefield/Cemetery Monument — Today “Been There Markers & Monuments” announces immediate availability of the Gettysburg National Battlefield/Cemetery Monument on eParks, “The official Online Store of America’s National Parks” (eparks.com).

This is the first in a series of Battle Monuments commemoratives to pay tribute to the National Battlefields and Military Parks that helped define our country.

“We continue our commitment to develop and manufacture products that are collectable, interpretive and handmade in USA that support our National Battlefields” said Terry Lee, Chief Designer at Been There Markers & Monuments. She added “This is a proven elegant collectible when you have “Been There and Done That.”

Each Battlefield Monument is designed in conjunction with the Battlefield’s historical staff to assure interpretive accuracy and are made from Pennsylvania Cherry. These Monuments compliment the “Been There Markers” that were successfully introduced in selected National Park Service “NPS” bookstores and visitors centers last year.

Founded in 2015, Been There Markers & Monuments offers a range of products designed to support the National Park Service (NPS) and their affiliated 501 (c)(3)’s.

###

Been There Markers & Monuments and Gettysburg National Battlefield/Cemetery Monument are either registered trademarks or trademarks of Been There Markers & Monuments in the United States and/or other countries.

For more information, press only:

Peter Pihos

301-777-0250

peter@beentheremarkers.com

For more information on Gettysburg National Battlefield/Cemetery Monument:

www.eparks.com

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate -- we can not consecrate -- we can not hallow -- this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain -- that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom -- and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Battle of Gettysburg

(Adams County, PA)

July 1 - 3, 1863

*part of the Gettysburg Campaign of the American Civil War
April 1861 - May 1865*

Commanders

Army of the Potomac
George G. Meade
(Union)

Army of Northern Virginia
Robert E. Lee
(Confederate)

Gettysburg
National Cemetery
(formerly known as Soldiers' National Cemetery)

Dedication Ceremony
November 19, 1863
President Abraham Lincoln delivered his
Gettysburg Address